Beverly Hills Chic
Prêt A Porter #20832

Tyler was prompted to fly to Beverly Hills by a call from the owner of Le Chic Salon who asked that she select styles from her collection to be featured in a Wentworth display. She chose to wear a classic white linen jacket, matching white linen trouser skirt and a fitted man-tailored shirt for the working meeting. It was the perfect outfit for a sunny day in Beverly Hills!

Market Week

Couture

On 7th Avenue, during busy market week, Tyler needs to look every bit the designer as she meets with the buyers. Tyler spends as much time as she can with the stores to learn first hand about the needs of their customers. On the first day of market week Tyler chooses a fitted black wool jersey jacket with velvet collar and cuffs and her faux leopard straight skirt. Black tights and short black boots add dash to her tailored outfit. Being her own best model, the biggest request Tyler has is for the outfit she is wearing!

Esmé
#20815

In a rare relaxed moment, Tyler went into a bookstore to browse. After making her selections, she noticed an incredibly beautiful young woman working behind the counter. Tyler introduced herself to the young woman and found out her name was Esmé. She was a pre-med student who was at first very skeptical about Tyler's suggestion that she model in the upcoming fashion show. Although she had been approached to model before, she never took it seriously. But having heard of Tyler and the House of Wentworth, she thought she would give it a try. After a lengthy conversation with the Chase Modeling Agency, Esmé was booked for her first show - The Tyler Wentworth Collection.

White House Dinner

#20806

Tyler was delighted to receive an invitation to dinner at the White House in appreciation of her designing the First Lady's inaugural ball gown. Her entire design room was turned upside down to create the perfect dress for the event. Initially nervous about the occasion, Tyler appeared radiant and poised in an elegant magenta silk gown with beaded black lace overlay and matching jet jewelry. At the end of a dazzling evening of dining and dancing, Tyler was honored with a gift and a personal "thank you" from the First Lady!

Casual Luxury

#20807

On the first clear day in early spring, Tyler throws on a luxurious double-breasted camel hair coat over beater gray turtleneck and winter white flannel pants for a brisk walk to the office. An "alligator" bag, belt, and boots provide the finishing touches to her outfit. En route, she receives a call from her good friend Esmé. Tyler is thrilled upon learning that Esmé will appear on the cover of the next Tres Chic magazine wearing a TW original.

Champagne Bubble

Couture #20820

Tyler was determined to make a memorable entrance at Chase Modeling Agency's annual spring cocktail party. Although dozens of beautiful models attended the event, Tyler held her own wearing a champagne-colored silk bubble dress, the bodice of which was hand-beaded with gold beads and pearls. Much to her delight, she noticed that many of the models were wearing House of Wentworth designs. The newest model at the agency, Tyler's friend Esmé, also created quite a sensation.

Shakespeare in the Park

Couture #20822

Outdoor events often pose a fashion dilemma, but Tyler met the challenge and looked stunning in a silver silk lamé gown with a tiered skirt of pleated organza. She was the talk of the Shakespeare in the Park benefit where all of New York's finest gathered to support the arts. Tyler's good friend, Christian Wolfe, played the lead role in Shakespeare's Hamlet and she presented him with a bouquet of roses following the performance.
